"Play a new action fantasy RPG centered on the rich background and mythology of the Lands Between. As the world collapses into ruin, a riddle appears on the streets of the world. Through this riddle, a sentient voice asks the characters to rise and be guided by grace to wield the power of the Elden Ring. As a member of a guild, experience the various situations in an action fantasy role-playing game, and strike off on an adventure."

- Unique Action Fantasy RPG centered on the Lands Between.
- The Elden Ring, the Authentic Equipment System
- Become an Elden Lord in the Lands Between
- An Epic Drama
- Be the Hero and Become an Elden Lord
- Brave the Danger of the Withering Plains

An Elden Lord is summoned by the voice of the Elden Ring, and must brave the dangers and challenges of the Withering Plains to recover the lost properties of the Elden Ring.

- Dungeons: The lands between a huge, labyrinthine dungeon with complex and three-dimensional design.
- Overcome the Various Environmental Environments: Perform action skillfully in a vast world where an uncountable number of environmental dangers arise.
- Various Opportunities Available: Come to the Lands Between from all over the world, and your successes shall be rewarded handsomely.
- Adventure Out With Other Players: Unleash your strong and competent hero by teaming up with other players in an epic adventure.

ABOUT DUST5: PRO In a post-apocalyptic era, the possibilities of owning and operating weapons are severely restricted. But when a simple video game server is chosen as the safest haven, the new world begins a new story. Dust5 is an online role-playing game that has a strong sense of "fusion." With the fusion of the character, weapon, and situation, Dust5 strives to create a world where the only thing you can truly use is yourself. ABOUT DUST5 Dust5 is a world where anyone can become the hero of their story. If you were looking for a fight, a battle between you and an enemy will be the ultimate highlight of the game.

- Story: A world where even if you have only a normal video game server, you can connect a player to it and make your own story.

And your story can come to life when players run away in fear, even when the server is empty.

- Sandbox World: With only you and a few other players participating

Discussion hey pretty much the same thing, but its a dlc and it has some sweet pvmp images like this one here: Gough wrote:i think my computer has a problem cause when i upload a file on here it always says has wrong or corrupt or similar Hey there! I think your computer is having a major issue with the images. Thats the only problem I get with new files. If you resize the image to 1024x1024, the text will appear and you can upload it. Sorry if this was just a simple problem and doesn't post, this website is just a major pain in the ass with it. r2k wrote:i agree about the file being to large but once i resize it i get some white lines on the sides Hey there! We report fluorescence measurements on double-stranded DNA-linked, gold nanoparticles in solution, reporting time resolution of 5 fs and submillisecond fluorescence lifetime. The fluorescence lifetime distribution of single nanogold particles dissolved in organic solvents is consistent with that of a simple monoexponential decay with a typical lifetime of 45 ps. If gold nanoparticles are hybridized with double-stranded DNA, however, the fluorescence lifetime distribution is significantly altered in a time-dependent manner, with submillisecond decay components rising from an initially pure monoexponential distribution at longer times. We show that the observed changes in fluorescence lifetime distribution are qualitatively explained by a two-population model that accounts for pure monoexponential fluorescence due to freely diffusing DNA-capped gold nanoparticles and the subsequent decay as they become docked to a single-stranded site on the DNA substrate. The results obtained from these experiments elucidate the impact that structure and composition of (bi)molecular structures will have on fluorescence lifetime and prove to be

Goggans, Montgomery, for appellant. James H. Evans, Atty. Gen., and Robert E. Lusk, Jr., Asst. Atty. Gen., for appellee. BOWEN, Judge. The defendant was convicted of robbery and was sentenced to life in prison without benefit of parole. On appeal from this conviction, the defendant argues that the trial court erred in refusing to give the defendant's written requested jury charge on impeachment by prior convictions. The state's evidence showed that the defendant was caught at the scene of a robbery, with blood on his clothes and in his hands. The evidence showed that the defendant was a black male, 20-21 years old, with no scars or tattoos, who was 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighed about 170-180 pounds. The robbery victim, who was 79 years old, testified that he was standing at a traffic light in downtown Montgomery at approximately 10:00 p.m. on February 27, 1990, when an unknown black male, who was 25 to 28 years old, approached him and told him he would "blow his head off" if he did not give him his money. She identified the defendant in court as the perpetrator of this robbery. In the light most favorable to the prosecution, Faircloth v. State, 471 So.2d 485 (Ala.Cr.App.1984), the following occurred after the state had rested its case in chief: "THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, you heard the last remark of the district attorney and the defense attorney as to what they were going to do with the witness. "I will instruct you at this time,

I can only think of a painfully complicated query using union all and something to iterate over the results - there has to be a much better way! A: I would use exists instead: select * from t1 where exists (select 1 from t2 t2 where t2.c = t1.a and t2.b = t1.b); BTW, you have to note that you do not have any index on (c, b). So, the query is not using an index in the where clause. 3K Shares Share As I write this
