The cosets of a discrete infinite group are strictly paracontinuous, i.e., the group is a semidirect product of a topological discrete factor and a topological group, and the continuous representations of the factor are closed under restriction, in contrast to the continuous representations of the group. We observe that the first Tietze-type theorem for cosets (V. I. Proskurin [Proc. Steklov Inst. Math. 187 (1987), 119 - 124]) can be proved by a simple proof based on the fact that the weak topology on a coset coincides with the topology of uniform convergence. We also show that not every continuous homomorphism defined on a discrete coset factors through a (possibly trivial) representation of the factor. Hence the continuous homomorphism on a discrete coset is a sequence of continuous homomorphisms of the factor, and this sequence must converge. This implies the second Tietze-type theorem, which was obtained without using the identity element of the factor, by G. L. Davies and P. S. Muhly [Michigan Math. J. 25 (1978), 243 - 249]. We also obtain a fourth Tietze-type theorem for cosets, which can be viewed as a non-trivial generalization of several known results.8th Pay Commission Arrears: SC Dismisses Suo Motu Appeal Against Cancellation of Payments 8th Pay Commission Arrears: SC Dismisses Suo Motu Appeal Against Cancellation of Payments The Supreme Court on Friday dismissed a suo motu appeal against the Court of Appeal's decision to cancel all arrears paid to employees under the revised pay
