when adding new sounds to a library, one of the first things to do is to make sure that the sounds are assigned to the proper category, using the sound category list. next is to add descriptions to each of the sounds so that youll know what the sounds are used for. so, after youve added the sounds to the library, its time to assign them to the proper category. the category system is one of the most important things to remember when creating your own sound library. the categories are very simple to remember, youll remember the primary category (such as aircraft/aircraft cabin/aircraft cockpit) and then any subsets you add (such as boeing 757/a330). this plugin is one of my favorites and if you want to create custom sounds you must use this tool. this plugin has been downloaded over 3 million times and is the most downloaded fx plugin for fsx. you can use this plugin to create all kinds of custom lifts, explosions, fires, water, and much more. you can buy this and use it to create your own custom sounds! its a great tool for sound designers, musicians, and producers. the best thing about this plugin is that it is very well documented and you can find a lot of free tips on the internet about how to use it. plus, there are hundreds of tutorials for you to learn from. vectorsound is a site that offers stock music, textures, and 3d models to the public. vectorsound offers a large selection of music, sound effects, sfx, and custom content. they also make custom stock content available to their customers. this is a great site for the music industry and for people like me who like to use stock sounds in their games. 5ec8ef588b
