CD Conversion Software Audio CD Master: . FarStone DriveClone Server V11 Incl Keymaker-CORE [deepstatus], 1 .PCG Slapp "PCG Slapp" is the second single from the debut album by American rock band Bullet for My Valentine, released in 2007 on record label Sumerian Records. The song was released on May 15, 2007. Guitarist Matthew Toggs commented on the track on the band's MySpace blog, saying, "it's about a guy who steals a girl's heart and leaves her stuck in the cornfield, after a fall from the motorcycle, while he's out partying with the boys, of course. We shot it in the cornfield in Shreveport because it looked like an abandoned farm in the winter. I'm excited to show it to everyone, but it's the best song off the new record so far. I've been rolling around on my back to reach that point." Music video The music video for the song was released June 5, 2007. Lead singer Matt Toggs tweeted a link to the video on his Twitter account, @AvengingAngel, at 9:31 AM on June 5. Meaning Matt Toggs described the meaning behind the song: Charts "PCG Slapp" debuted at number 98 on the Billboard Hot 100. At the end of 2007, the song climbed from 90 to 98 on the Billboard Hot 100. It charted on the Alternative Songs chart for 8 weeks, peaking at number 19. The song charted at number 25 on the Billboard Mainstream Rock Tracks chart. Critical reception The Illinois Entertainer said, "PCG Slapp" has a pulse that rocks, and if there is one song that needs to be released from the new Bullet for My Valentine album, it's this one." Spin said, "the song isn't about the breakup of a relationship; it's about a young man's heartbreak at the thought of leaving behind the party scene for a community college and working in a factory, or for that matter, moving to Iowa to live with grandma."
